

The Guardian

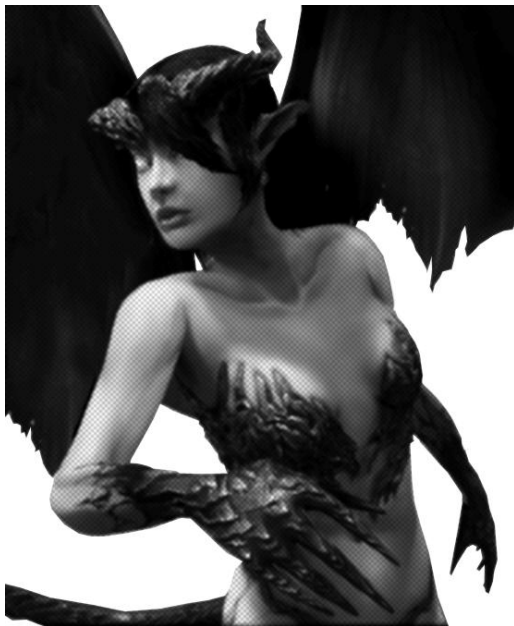

Vol 1. (no, not the "Temple of")

Stormreach, Eberron, Saturday October 10

No. 2

SUCCUBUS SCANDAL!

Pictures surfaced this week of the DDo Succubus which have put pageant officials into a quandary. Apparently, Miss Succubus has undergone physical augmentation which may disqualify here from the pageant. Judges are still ruling on this.

Archive Photos of Succubus Provided by an Anonymous Source

Recent Succubus Image

When asked to comment on her obvious physical enhancement(s), the succubus replied, "You guys are kidding me, right? I'm a succubus! My physical appearance changes all the time. Whatever proportions I have at the time are dictated by who I am trying to seduce. Who gave you those old pictures of me anyway? I don't need any negative press tipping the scales against me in this pageant. I will track them down and kill them in the sexiest way possible! Oh. Wait. don't print that."

After a long, drawn out convincing session with this reporter, The Guardian decided not to print her possibly negative comments. Oops.

MARI MOSSHANDS STEALS BAGS FROM HOWELLS

Miss Mari Mosshands, a very Maryanne-ish young contestant in the Miss Stormreach Pageant admitted to taking all of the gem and ingredient bags from a wealthy couple on the boat she came in on--The S.S. Minnow. While these free bags are appreciated by newcomers to Stormreach Harbor, one has to appreciate them a little less, knowing they are stolen. The Howells were unavailable for comment. They are presumed lost at sea.

-Clankenbeard J. Dwarf